

Red: higher absorption with the species; blue: lower. Peak labels mark the strongest separated local maxima (≥2 eV apart).
Descriptive associations: coverage, structure and coadsorbates can contribute. * Sparse species are uncertain; these are not unique chemical fingerprints.